Happening in December...

World AIDS Day, Dec. 1. World AIDS Day is an opportunity for people worldwide to unite in the fight against HIV, show their support for people living with HIV, and commemorate those who have died.

National Stress Free Holidays Month. Don't let the hectic demands of the December holiday season get you down. Learn to recognize signs of stress, keep expectations realistic, and practice saying no before you burn out. Also, watch your diet and stick to your exercise schedule to stay healthy and calm.

National Impaired Driving Prevention Month. This holiday season, make sure to plan for a safe way home, especially if your plans involve alcohol. If someone you know is drinking, don't let that person get behind the wheel. Remember, too, that just because you're driving sober, others on the road may not be. Always buckle up, drive with caution, and call 911 to report a suspected drunken driver.

Safe Toys and Gifts Month. Prevent Blindness America has declared December Safe Toys and Gifts Awareness Month, encouraging gift-givers to consider whether the toys they plan on giving suit the age and individual skills and abilities of the child who will receive them—especially for children under age 3.

Holiday Safety Reminder

Before you decorate your tree for the holidays, please be sure to thoroughly inspect lights for frayed wiring or defective bulb sockets. Also, when the holidays are over, please don't wait too long to remove your tree. Dry trees are extremely flammable. We care about you and want everyone to have a safe and joyous holiday season!

De-stress your holidays with tips from Tidy Tutor

Do holidays mean lots of shopping for guests, rushing home from work to get it all together, and ending up stressed?

According to Kathy Roberts of TidyTutor.com, you can do four things that will significantly de-stress your holiday in the days leading up to the big events.

1 Do it now.

Maybe you can slack off later, but in the days leading up to December 24 and 25, try to do the little things immediately. Little pickups and put away tasks. Start to do it early.

2 Pay attention to laundry and dishes.

Dishes. Keep them done. Always in the dishwashers or dish drainer before bed. Use one cup and don't grab a new one for the second cup of tea.

Laundry. Load in the washer at night. Morning to the dryer. Night fold and put away. You must put away. If you don't the cat is going to sleep on them, and the family is going to rifle through them.

3 Clear out the house early in the month for cleaning, cooking and company.

Put everything out of your schedule for cleaning and pick-up except the living room and bathroom.

Get boxes and put every knick-knack, end table thing, clutter from the entrance way, bottles and jars from the bathroom into boxes. Mark them so you know what is there. Hide the boxes until the holiday is over. When the guests have left, give yourself 15 minutes to toss or restore the stuff you removed.

You might try this at the time you put up your tree since you will end up with empty boxes. But in any case, you could use produce boxes from the grocery store for this.

4 Create a present wrapping station early.

Gather all the things you need: Scissors, paper, tags, bags, tape and ribbon. Start a list on paper of each present, who it goes to, what it costs and where you hid it. Have an envelope ready for receipts. Then wrap as you go.

Gifts for the ungiftable

Weird ice. Molds for ice are big. Ice molds come in shapes like round, skull, geometric, slanted, giant, tiny, Star Wars, golf ball, hand grenade, heart, bullet. A variation on the theme is rocks that keep your glass cool. Pair the perfect ice mold with a suitable bottle of refreshment.

Breakfast food. Try Zabars.com for breakfast baskets (and much more, of course). You can get a crate full of bagels, cream cheese, coffee, orange juice, and pastry. Can be pricey, though.

Subscription boxes. You can order subscriptions to snack boxes, cosmetics, projects for kids, coffees, dog treats, dinners to make, strange food, and anything else possible to ship.

Crafty stuff. A 3-D pen that oozes out a plastic that hardens within seconds. Your crafty friend will not just draw but sculpt, too. See it at hammacher.com.

Funny stuff. How about a custom bobble head? Upload your photo at 1minime.com and you can get your friend or loved one's head on a variety of bodies.

Or, go all the way and put your loved one's face on ancient art. Be Napoleon at society6.com.

Baked Cranberry Pear

For this delicious, easy (and healthy!) dessert, you need one small ripe pear, two tablespoons chopped walnuts or slivered almonds, one tablespoon dried cranberries, one teaspoon brown sugar and one-half teaspoon almond extract. Cut the pear in half lengthwise. Remove the core, and scoop out a two-inch hole in the center of each half. Chop the scooped-out flesh, add the remaining ingredients and toss. Spoon the mixture into the pears. Bake 15 minutes at 400° or until the pears are soft. Serves two.

With the lives of 5,000 sleeping passengers at stake, only Jim and Aurora can save them all.
