Pouring Enthusiasm Your Way!

September 1-7 is International Enthusiasm Week, and we think there's no better way to celebrate than to extend a warm welcome to our newest residents. If you notice a new neighbor in the community, please make a point to introduce yourself.

We know you'll love the new friends we're bringing your way as much as we do. If you've just moved in, we're delighted you've joined us and we look forward to knowing you for years to come.

Bumper Sticker Chuckles

Some bumper sticker messages are inspiring and motivational. Others, not so much. Steer clear of cars sporting these affirmations:

- I assume full responsibility for my actions, except the ones that are someone else's fault.
- My intuition nearly makes up for my lack of good judgment.
- Why suffer in silence while I can still moan, whimper, and complain?
- Forgiveness is cheaper than a lawsuit. But not nearly as gratifying.
- I am at one with my multiple personalities.
- I find humor in my everyday life by looking for people I can laugh at.

Having Trouble Sleeping?

For the best night's sleep, the Better Sleep Council recommends keeping the temperature in your bedroom at 60 to 65 degrees Fahrenheit. Warmer or cooler temperatures can cause restlessness and interrupt your slumber.

Get children ready for the babysitter

Parents, be honest: You need a night out every now and then, right? But finding the right babysitter can be a chore—and hoping your children behave themselves while you're gone can cast a pall on your date. Here are some tips for preparing your kids for the babysitter before you head out the door:

- Talk about your plans. If you spring the babysitter on your children at the last minute, chances are they'll be frightened and angry. Let your kids know ahead of time that someone else will be looking after them while you're out.

- Introduce the babysitter. Ask a prospective babysitter to come to your house in advance so your children can get to know him or her. If that's not convenient, at least schedule the babysitter's arrival for a half-hour or so before your departure so you can see how they interact with each other.

- Get organized. Be sure the babysitter knows where everything is—toys, videos, food, and especially contact numbers in case of an emergency. This helps the babysitter relax, which can give your children a feeling of comfort in your absence.

- Stick to your routine. Your babysitter should know when to serve dinner, what time your children should be in bed, what they're allowed to do, and what's against the rules. Again, rules and routine can provide everyone with a sense of security.

- Be firm. If your children start to get upset when you're ready to leave, don't immediately turn back. Give them a hug and some reassurance, explain that you'll be back, and remind them that you trust the babysitter to take good care of them. Delaying your exit can confuse them and increase their anxiety level.

Save by paying yourself first

Save, save, save! This is advice everyone hears throughout their lives, mostly from those older than they are. Given that the average American's saving rate is a paltry 5.7 percent, it appears as though many are not heeding this good advice.

According to financial blog Get Rich Slowly, one of the best ways to ensure that people are saving enough is to pay themselves first. This strategy means that money is put into a savings account before paying bills and before spending money on food and cell phones. Handling money in this way ensures that it is being prioritized and helps to develop healthy financial habits.

Clear and clean: Take good care of your contact lenses More than 24 million Americans wear contact lenses, along with many more millions around the world. They're easy and convenient to use—so simple, in fact, that according to one study, fewer than 2 percent of lens users faithfully follow all the guidelines for safely cleaning them.

Don't put your eyes at risk. Pay attention to these basic but necessary rules:

- Check your hands. Always wash and dry your hands before handling your lenses.
- Use the right cleaning solution. Don't rinse or store them in tap water, and don't use your tongue or saliva to moisten them. Use fresh solution, and don't "top off" old solution with new; the active ingredients in many solutions can break down over time.
- Keep them away from water. Remove your contact lenses before swimming or entering a hot tub.
 - Take care of your lens case. Clean it often, and replace it every three months.
 - Replace your lenses as necessary. Stick to the schedule your eye doctor recommends.

AMERICAN MADE Tom Cruise stars as Barry Seal, a TWA pilot recruited by the CIA to provide reconnaissance on the burgeoning communist threat in Central America. Seal finds himself in charge of one of the biggest covert CIA operations in the history of the U.S., one that spawned the birth of the Medellin cartel and eventually almost brought down the Reagan White House through the Iran Contra scandal.

BATTLE OF THE SEXES The electrifying 1973 tennis match between World number one Billie Jean King (Emma Stone) and ex-champ and serial hustler Bobby Riggs (Steve Carell) was billed as the Battle of the Sexes and became the most watched televised sports event of all time. Trapped in the media glare, King and Riggs were on opposites sides of a binary argument, but off-court each was fighting more personal and complex battles. With her husband urging her to fight for equal pay, the private King was also struggling to come to terms with her own sexuality, while Riggs gambled his legacy and reputation in a bid to relive the glories of his past.

FELT: THE MAN WHO BROUGHT DOWN THE WHITE HOUSE The story of W. Mark Felt, the retired FBI man who admitted he was the famous anonymous "Deep Throat" source. Felt was the shadowy insider who aided Washington Post reporters Bob Woodward and Carl Bernstein in exposing the Nixon administration's role in the Watergate and its cover-up. Liam Neeson and Diane Lane star.

FLATLINERS A group of medical students subject themselves to near-death experiences in order to see if anything lies beyond the big sleep. The members of the group are then revisited by physical manifestations of childhood sins, but they are not sure if what they are facing is real or hallucination.

ALL I SEE IS YOU Blake Lively stars as Gina, a blind woman dependent on her husband, James (Jason Clarke), to navigate through her life and the streets of Bangkok, where they live. When Gina completes a surgery that restores her sight, the couple's life and relationship change in a million little ways.

HOME AGAIN Reese Witherspoon stars as Alice Kinney in a modern romantic comedy. Recently separated from her husband, (Michael Sheen), Alice decides to start over by moving back to her hometown of Los Angeles with her two young daughters. During a night out on her 40th birthday, Alice meets three aspiring filmmakers who happen to be in need of a place to live. Alice agrees to let the guys stay in her guest house temporarily, but the arrangement ends up unfolding in unexpected ways. Alice's unlikely new family and new romance comes to a crashing halt when her ex-husband shows up, suitcase in hand.

BRAD'S STATUS Brad Sloan (Ben Stiller) has a satisfying career and a comfortable life in suburban California, but it's not quite what he imagined during his glory days in college. Sloan keeps comparing his life with those of his four college friends, wondering what it would be like to have their well-paying and glamorous jobs. When circumstances force Brad to reconnect with his buddies, he soon begins to question whether he has failed, or is in some ways the most successful of them all.

STRONGER Jake Gyllenhaal stars in the inspiring true story of Jeff Bauman, an ordinary man who captured the hearts of his city and the world to become a symbol of hope following the infamous 2013 Boston Marathon bombing. It is Jeff's deeply personal account of the heroic journey which tests a family's bond, defines a community's pride and inspires his inner courage to overcome devastating adversity.

Decadent Heath Bar Cake

Close to the check-out registers of practically every grocery or drug store, you're likely to see a box of Heath bars. Since 1928, Americans have enjoyed the nutty and crunchy texture of this chocolate-coated toffee.

In 2014, the Heath Brothers Confectionery, in Robinson, Illinois, is celebrated its 100th year.

Brothers Bayard and Everett Heath, with their schoolteacher father's backing, opened a combination candy store, ice cream parlor, and manufacturing process in 1914. Allegedly, a salesman representing a Greek confectioner gave them the toffee recipe they used to market Heath English Toffee.

The bar was so popular and had such a long self-life, the U.S. Army included one in the rations of soldiers during WW II. In the fifties, stores nationwide sold the Heath Toffee Ice Cream Bar; and later, Heath within other forms.

It's not surprising that home cooks have found ways to use Heath in their desserts. A favorite passed on through families and friends is a cake recipe with the same ingredients, but different names: Heath Bar Cake; Better Than Sex Cake; Better Than "Anything" Cake; Better Than Almost Anything Cake; and others.

Decadent Heath Bar Cake

1 box German chocolate (or devil's food) cake mix
 1 cup caramel ice cream topping
 1 can (14 ounce) sweetened condensed milk
 1 (12 ounce) container frozen whipped topping (defrosted)
 3 to 4 Heath candy bars, chopped

Bake the cake mix according to package directions and spread in a 9 x 13 x 2-inch pan.

While still hot, punch holes in top of cake with a skewer, straw or clean pencil.

Pour sweetened condensed milk and caramel topping over hot cake. Let cake cool. Cover and refrigerate until ready to use.

When cooled, spread with whipped topping and sprinkle liberally with chopped Heath bars.
