

Feedback and customer concerns procedure

This document is available in other formats on www.canadalife.com or on request from Ombudsman@canadalife.com.

Introduction

The Canada Life Assurance Company (the “Company”) and its subsidiaries are committed to providing access to the Company’s financial products and services to individuals with disabilities.

The Feedback and customer concerns procedure is intended to address the requirements of applicable accessibility legislation, including the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005 and The Accessibility for Manitobans Act. It describes how a person may provide feedback and notice of concerns to the Company with respect to the accessibility of its products, services and facilities for persons with disabilities.

General

The Company makes reasonable efforts to ensure that individuals with disabilities have the same opportunity to obtain, use and benefit from the financial products and services the Company provides, as well as the premises owned and managed by the Company, in a similar way as others.

The Company welcomes feedback on the way it provides its financial products and services to individuals with disabilities, and the accessibility of the premises owned and managed by the Company. Comments and concerns should be in writing by letter or e-mail, if reasonable. However, they may be made in person, by telephone or other method that accommodates a person’s communication needs. This feedback will be documented in a tracking system, along with any resulting actions taken by the Company. Where applicable, information about the actions resulting from this feedback will be available upon reasonable request.

The Company will ensure that every process for receiving and responding to feedback is accessible to persons with disabilities. It will do this by providing or arranging for the provision of accessible formats and communication supports upon request and accepting feedback on the accessibility of its feedback processes generally.

How to Provide Feedback and Concerns
