The failure or forbearance on the part of Lessor to enforce any of its rights or remedies in connection with any default shall not be deemed a waiver of such default, nor a consent to any continuation thereof, or a waiver of the same default at any subsequent date. Any action taken by Lessor under the provisions of this Lease, or to enforce the provisions of this Lease, or to declare a termination of Lessee's interest under this Lease, or to repossess itself of the Leased Premises, shall not, in any event, release or relieve Lessee from its continuing obligations hereunder, including, and not by way of limitation, Lessee's continuing obligation to make all payments herein provided.

The Importance of Renter's Insurance

You rent the apartment where you live, so why do you need renter's insurance?

My Landlord's Insurance Will Pay For It

Your landlord's insurance policy does not cover your personal property. The Landlord's insurance will only cover the physical dwelling in which you live (the floors and walls) not your personal possessions such as TV, computer, cell phones, clothing, food, etc.

My Landlord Will Provide Me a Place to Live While My Apartment is Being Fixed

Not true. For those residents who are displaced due to a fire or other event, the Landlord is not required to provide you with free housing.

I'm Not Responsible If My Roommate Starts a Fire

Unintentional bodily injury or property damage caused by your roommate, or a guest of a roommate can cost you a significant amount of money. A visitor who slips on your wet kitchen floor can be as costly as a fire.

I don't Own Very Much

You don't realize the value of your belongings until they are lost in a fire or a storm. The cost of replacement of your belongings is an out-of-pocket expense that may be difficult for you to afford.

Renter's Insurance Is Too Expensive

Compared to how much money you would have to pay out of pocket renter's insurance is cheap.

The importance of renter's insurance and my responsibility in purchasing and maintaining renter's insurance has been explained to me.

Failure to immediately notify Lessor could result in Pests spreading to other rental units and common areas which will cause the treatment and eradication of the Pests to be more difficult, time consuming and expensive.
- B. Lessee should not attempt to treat any Pest infestation himself/herself. Self-treating for Pests may result in injuring to Lessee and/or cause the Pest infestation to become worse.

- B. Unless caused by the intentional or negligent acts or omissions of Lessor, Lessor is not responsible for any damage or destruction of Lessee's personal property or injuries arising from any Pest(s) infestation.

10. Renter's Insurance. Lessee acknowledges that Lessor's insurance does not cover any of Lessee's personal property that may be damaged or destroyed by Pests or any treatment/eradication of Pest(s). Lessee also acknowledges that Lessor's insurance does not protect Lessee from any loss or damage caused by the actions of Lessee, Lessee's household members, guests or invitees.
